

To All Technical Intern Trainees

Spring has arrived, and with it comes the sight of beautiful blooming flowers. I hope this message finds you all well.

This season also brings with it drastic temperature changes, where the mornings are colder and the days can become warmer like in summer, with some chilly days depending on the weather. Please take good care of yourselves so as not to fall sick.

As we approach Golden Week, let us take the time to reflect on whether we are taking enough preventive measures in our daily lives and maintaining good hygiene. Can any of us proudly say, "I can be a model for my juniors!"?

Please live with the pride that each one of you represents your home country by coming to Japan. Remember, if you violate the rules, the Japanese people may have a negative impression of your home country. The heartless behavior of just one person can reflect poorly on your entire nation. Please act with the consciousness and pride of being a representative of your home country. Do not betray the people who have shown you kindness and support daily, as once you lose their trust, it may be difficult to regain it.

Take care and stay safe.
